

BVE 2012 audio roundup

Digital workflow experts Emotion Systems announced that London post production giant The Mill have ordered licenses for Emotion's "eFF" (Emotion File Finish) software application, which automatically analyses and fixes audio loudness violations in file-based media.

The eFF application reports to guarantee compliance with the all the latest loudness standards by analysing file-based media and utilising accurate modelling of analogue peak programme peters (PPMs) and loudness detection parameters.
